Managing current and future risks: The CLIMAAX regions journey

---

Date: 3 December 2026
Time: 14:30 - 16:00 CET
Platform: Zoom

Description

As the CLIMAAX project draws to a close, the final Community of Practice webinar turns to a central question: what does it take to move from climate risk assessment to climate risk management? Selected CLIMAAX regions will share how they have made this step in practice, reflecting on the choices, challenges and lessons learned along the way. The session opens with a short live poll on the community's experience, followed by the regional presentations and an open discussion with the presenters. It closes with a look ahead to the next phase of collaboration and an introduction to the follow-up project: ClimaaxNext.
